LISA HAISHA

Lisa is also the Chairwoman of Silicon Valley's Pitch Global L.A. chapter and frequently works with entrepreneurs helping them manifest change.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Question

What's the biggest challenge you see people confronting in today's professional world?

Answer

Comfort addiction We're too comfortable. We're soft. We live inside our "comfort cocoon." We're uninspired because everything is a mouse click away. My advice: Get uncomfortable. Shake things up. Travel. Give stuff away. Love deeply, push yourself mind, body, heart and soul. Get outside your comfort zone because it's suffocating the life, creativity, and vitality out of you.

Question

You've traveled to over 60 countries. What's one of the most significant things you've learned?

Answer

Love has no borders. The people in developing countries seem happier than those of us who live lives of privilege because they are connected to nature, they spend more quality time with their families, and they're not bombarded with technology 24/7. From my experience living with the Bedouins in the Mountains of Petra to the Masai tribes in Tanzania, I've witnessed individuals who had a strong sense of self and belonging. Family ties run deep. They need each other, depend on each other and they thrive together. It was beautiful to participate and witness the deep, unselfish love that was so present and easily shared.

Question

Why are we hearing about so many alternatives to conventional marriage lately?

Answer

We need to learn to persevere and work hard at creating a successful marriage. At the same time love doesn't need to be in a single container anymore. The definition and boundaries of what constitutes a successful marriage should be evolving.

Question

What is our fascination with fame all about?

Answer

Our fascination with fame is about wanting more. Wanting to be seen and heard in a world that is getting smaller and smaller each day. Celebrities represent those that appear to have it all and I know for a fact, they don't. Celebrities are living myths that we hang our cultural identities on and live vicariously through.

WHAT IS SOULBLAZING?

SoulBlazing is a process of igniting, awakening or expressing one's inner purpose with fervor and brilliance. It's a process to reintroduce you to yourself by using the Imposter model, the seven masks we wear to manipulate others thus preventing us from loving ourselves fully and being loved deeply. It's a fascinating framework for understanding the seven key archetypes that define your perception of yourself and others, never mind the world stage.

The goal is to understand the 7 key "Imposters" that live on the stage of our brain making decisions for you... and acknowledging and LEVERAGING each one. If you can name them, you can claim them.

Learn the SoulBlazing method step-by-step... and explore your personal narratives rooted in childhood and how to rewrite your future.

ABOUT SOULBLAZING

What does a coaching session look like?

SoulBlazing sessions include, improv, soul conversations, eye gazing, strategic questions and a variety of vocal and body exercises that help you get in touch with your Authentic Soul.

Through the penetrative questioning and a highly developed ability to diffuse clients' egos and fears, Lisa is able to nurture a soul-to-soul exchange, walking the tightrope between the spiritual world and tough love reality. It's about stripping you of your illusions, delusions, and confusions to set your authentic soul free. Soul Blazing releases shame and guilt, manifesting inner peace and opening the pathway to your true purpose. SoulBlazing is a stepping stone toward creating cherished and lasting changes in people's lives.

What is the significance of the name SoulBlazing?

I volunteered at Chowchilla maximum-security prison, just north of Fresno. One of the women I was coaching, a triple murderer, was very aggressive, the bully of the prison. I started our session eye gazing, which she was uncomfortable with. Her immediate reaction was anger, but I didn't back down. I was role-playing being a bully, mirroring her behavior. She played back, getting right in my face. Once she saw I didn't back down and matched her intensity, I gained her trust. She understood I was on her side. At the end of our 30 minute session, she said, "Lisa, you just blazed my soul." At that moment, I had the name of this type of coaching I was doing.

A large background image of a woman with long brown hair smiling, with several children in the background. A red speech bubble is overlaid on the image.

What makes you unique as a mentor, SoulBlazer, coach?

I have traveled to over 60 countries and lived in several of them. I have a strong grasp on people and various cultures around the globe. I also have spent a lot of time alone in nature on many of these trips, which helped me get in touch with my intuition. Without going inward, it's hard to help anyone, especially yourself.

I think the best coaches are the ones that don't just have a degree on their wall but ones that have gone to the dark side of their soul to excavate their own demons, so they can hold the hand of others as they assist them on their journey.

My training isn't just a degree, but my life's work being out in the field, globally. I SoulBlaze daily, it's not just in coaching sessions. I have certainly put in more than the prerequisite 10,000 hours that makes one a master of their craft.

WORLD JOURNAL

Chronicles Lisa's Mission travels across the globe where she reminds us that "it's not just where you are, but who you are" when you travel. No standard tourist fare on these trips -- expect to get uncomfortable and love it! Traveling is just as much about self-awareness as it is learning about the world around you, and Lisa's an expert in both.

As her spiritual Auntie said while visiting Baghdad: "Its not what you take from a country, it's what you leave a country," and Lisa feels it's important to leave gifts when traveling, but also leave a piece of your soul. These trips taught me about unconditional love, the importance of connection and community and there is no greater gift than to be able to receive and give love.

3 MAGICAL QUESTIONS 1 BOOK A GLOBAL MOVEMENT

Lisa spent five years going to orphanages in 15 countries to bring the children's voices to the world. When Lisa decided to ask three simple questions to the children she encountered, she had no idea her questions would one day spark a humanitarian mission. But that's exactly what happened.

THE THREE MAGICAL QUESTIONS WERE:

1. If you had one wish, what would it be?
2. Is God fair? Why or why not
3. Who in the world would you most want to meet?

Lisa imagined that one day she would publish the children's responses as a book. But along the way, something unexpected happened.

After some time passed and in reading back through all the quotes I had collected," says Haisha, "I realized there was much more here. The power and mystery embedded in the soul of each child was profound. I felt these children have the ability to show us things we can't always see ourselves. They are a reflection of our adult world, which has a ripple down effect on our children, which we ignore at our peril." So Lisa continued to travel. She collected more quotes, met more children, and spent time listening to the whispers of children's hearts. Thus, the foundation "Whispers from Children's Hearts" was born.

THE BOOK

To memorialize the whispers from each child's heart, in 2005 Lisa published the book "Whispers from Children's Hearts" with illustrator Tim Huhn. The book's launch was a quiet one: Lisa's goal was merely to preserve the voices and truths of the children who had made such an impression on her. "I simply give you their hearts," writes Lisa "...for they were the heart of my journeys around the globe. Enjoy and learn from their surprising thoughts, and share them with the little people in your life.

The WFCH foundation. It's a 501(c)3 international was founded by Lisa Haisha and Lee Aronsohn in 2007. From 2007-2012 our focus was taking people on mission trips abroad (Tanzania, Jordan, Cairo, Bali, Costa Rica, Mexico) and helping refurbish schools and donating money and supplies to orphanages with the intent of building bridges of understanding and awareness with people across our world.

2013-2018 we created mission trips locally, taking kids and Broadway stars to hospitals to cheer up the kids who have cancer and other life-threatening diseases by entertaining them, bringing art supplies, playing with them and donating money.

WFCH also created a "Legacy Gala." It was an annual event that highlighted women doing mission work with local children. We'd raised 20k to help assist them and also give them the microphone to share their non-profit with over 300 guests and over two dozen press outlets.

TRANSFORMATION THROUGH TRAVEL

Embrace the unknown. Be a traveler, not a tourist

The world has never been more of a global village: Planet Earth has become Google Earth, yet unknowns still abound. We must learn to be more open, accept radical departures from the status quo, and cultivate shifts in consciousness. In short, we need to live like travelers without a precise itinerary, rather than as tourists who follow familiar paths. This riveting speech is filled with gems of insight and life lessons from hundreds of travel experiences in sixty different countries. You'll learn

- How to gain a better understanding of your authentic self through travel.
- Ways to embrace change and the unknown to experience the virtues of living outside your comfort zone.
- What cultural preconceptions might be lodged in your psyche that are preventing you from experiencing life to the fullest.
- What you can do to cultivate your inner traveler rather than being stuck in emotional stand-by with your inner tourist. How to meet your "soul family" around the world and deepen your travel experiences

SOULBLAZE YOUR WAY TO ABUNDANCE

True wealth is a state of mind

Abundance is a mindset and equity is not just financial: The value you create in your life is a priceless asset and one of the most important investments you can make. I call it Soul Currency. It's not just about how much money you make but how you make it and what you do with it. In this engaging talk we'll explore how can Soul Currency feeds not just your bank account but your spiritual reservoir. I'll cover key life principles that you can put into action to create the gift that truly keeps on giving
